How do the impacts of tourism vary around the world?		Space and Place
Content + skills (Intent)
Prior Learning (Topic) KS1/2: There is no specific 'Tourism' content in KS2. However, we are aiming to build on Pupils place knowledge by extending to studying Asia, Africa and the Middle East. Also – 'economic activity' will have been taught so this unit picks up on those human processes and the related environments. KS3 at Balcarras – Tourism as a concept has not been taught before in depth. The term Tourist is introduced in Year 7 in Pole to Pole and is highlighted in most other KS3 topics. Sustainability has been covered in most topics and so this topic extends that concept into a different realm. <hr/> Students will explore and develop the concept of tourism, including how it has grown over time and how its impacts vary around the world. The unit of work focuses on the characteristics and impacts of tourism in contrasting African, Asian and Middle Eastern countries. Students will explore and build on previous knowledge of places around the world, focusing on how human and physical processes interact. The key focus will be on how human activity linked to tourism can influence and change landscapes and environments both positively and negatively. The concepts of mass tourism and of encouraging sustainable tourism will be introduced as comparative styles. To conclude, students will undertake an assessment that combines both geographical knowledge and skills developed in the topic. <hr/> Future Learning (Topic) KS3 at Balcarras: Year 9 Ecosystems. KS4 at Balcarras: Tourism and its associated advantages and disadvantages appear in many GCSE units. The main ones being: Glacial Environments (Year 10), Urban Issues and Challenges (Year 10) and Changing Economic World (Year 10) KS4 at Balcarras: As at KS4, the demands of A-Level geography require an understanding on the impacts of tourism in a synoptic manner but is not explicitly taught. Cross curricular: Business studies at KS4 impacts on Tourism. Maths (compound line graphs, climate graphs) <hr/> <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>How will knowledge and skills be taught? Conversation Starters:

Mass Tourism should be banned as it does more harm than good
Only rich people are able to travel
It isn't safe to travel to Asia
Tourism doesn't have any benefits
Ecotourism is the ONLY way people should be allowed to travel.
