

Defining and enhancing the role of the subject leader- managing curriculum change

Cross Phase

Tuesday 10th November 2020 – 16:00 – 18:00 (Virtual event)

This event will give subject leaders, subject specialists and faculty leaders a range of coaching skills and techniques that will support them in ensuring that there is a powerful culture of sharing and cascading of good and outstanding practice across their teams. We focus on how to encourage opportunities for a professional dialogue where colleagues reflect on their subject knowledge, approaches to classroom pedagogy and the development of effective learning and meta-cognitive skills. The introduction of the new OFSTED framework and the emphasis on curriculum as the driver for quality in education highlights the importance of the role of the subject leader.

If you would like to book places for your colleagues on any of the activities please contact Jo Newman. Her email address is: jmn@balcarras.gloucs.sch.uk

A link for the virtual event will be sent to you nearer the time of the event

This event is FREE to all Teaching School Partners.

There is a fee of £50 to non-partners.
